

Vocalist, creative and entrepreneur Yolanda Marant comes from a long line of creatives - builders, musicians, singers, and pastors. For 20 over years she has served helping many churches, pastors and the community through music and her graphic design business - Wildpraise Music & Media. After much consideration, she has begun the process for her 1st music project to the masses.

Yolanda desires to create music that will heal, give freedom, break barriers and reach the young and the old. While church culture has changed, Gods' message has not. It is her goal to share the good news of Jesus Christ. In addition, ensuring the generation before her is not forgotten. This passionate songbird has helped many tell their story, now it is time for her to share her story with you.

Amazing and long-lasting music takes hard work, great people and a good amount of funds to make it successful. Yolanda would love your help to make this happen.

Your support is highly appreciated in this endeavor.
